HOPE FOR BRITISH AIRMAN IS LOST

Searching Parties For Missing British Flyer Work in Vain.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, May 21.—Although weather conditions were extremely favorable, the N. C. 4, which was unable to get the seaplane today for the 300 mile flight to Lisbon, Portugal, because of engine trouble which developed when the ship was being tuned up for the start.
Dispatches from not serious and officials expected Commander Read to get away at daybreak tomorrow.
Commander John H. Towers, transatlantic flight commander, has reported that the N. C. 4 is stricken from the navy list as "lost at sea" and that the N. C. 3 is placed out of commission for rebuilding when the N. C. 3 is taken apart at Ponta Delgada, preparatory to being shipped home.

Hope For Hawker Lost
St. John, N. F., May 21.—Hope for the safety of Harry G. Hawker and Commander MacKenzie Grieve, missing since they set out eastward through the air Sunday in the N. C. 4, was shattered today by the British flyers preparing here today to take wing in their wake. News of the safety of the N. C. 3, which had been a source of encouragement, but it is recognized that the Hawker-Grieve machine carried only a cockpit, single emergency boat as compared with the stout hull of the American naval plane.

Undaunted by Failure
Indicated by the Sopwith's disappearance, members of the other cross-ocean expeditions today continued to mature their plans for flights hence, from Harbor Grace came word that the Handley-Page super-bomber would be in the air within 10 days.

Captain Alcott, who is said to have taken on a full load of 865 gallons of gasoline before "hopping off," his plane will have a range of 2,440 miles. Captain Alcott said today that the plane will carry a life saving equipment only an inflatable vest as he considered other contrivances of such doubtful value that he would not burden his machine with them.

Wilson May Change Plans for Sailing Home

Paris, May 21.—The American naval authorities here decided that the steamer George Washington which President Wilson has used on his journey between the United States and France cannot enter the harbor of Antwerp as it is not large enough to accommodate the vessel. The question has been raised in connection with a plan for President Wilson to sail tomorrow for Antwerp after visiting Brussels. When the decision of the naval authorities will have upon the president's plans is not known as yet.

PEACE and WAR

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
The definite statement that Germany will not sign the peace terms as they were presented to her plenipotentiaries at Versailles, is made by the German cabinet through the Associated Press.

Statements along a somewhat similar line, by President Ebert, Premier Scheidemann, and other Germans in high places have preceded this one. Meanwhile European dispatches show that Germany's representative are still endeavoring to secure modifications of these terms. Thus another note was sent yesterday by the German peace mission to the secretariat of the peace congress. This is the tenth communication forwarded to the allies by the Germans since they received the peace terms. The contents of the notes are not as yet known.

The German representatives are expected to transmit to the allies a comprehensive statement on Germany's attitude towards the treaty as a whole, specifying what points they accept and what they desire to have modified. The 15 day time limit for them to make known their standpoint expires Thursday. The Germans, however have asked for an extension of time. Up to yesterday, at least, the prevalent opinion in Paris seemed to be that notwithstanding all their protest, the Germans ultimately would sign the treaty.

Premier Orlando of Italy has gone to Rome to confer with members of his cabinet on German interior and foreign questions according to a Paris dispatch. It seems probable, therefore that the peace terms will not be presented to the Italian delegation before Friday, when the Italian premier is expected to return to Rome. In view of the fact that the settlement of the Italian and Jugo-Slavic claims to Fiume and parts of Dalmatia are still unsettled and that Italy is still endeavoring to bring about an agreement before the peace terms are laid before the Austrian peace mission, it may be assumed that Signor Orlando's trip to Rome indicates that Italy is still in the work of adjusting the situation. Apparently Premier Orlando will at the most remain at Rome only a few hours.

Judge Schumacher, who represented Tyrol on the Austrian peace delegation, has returned to Vienna. It is stated in Paris advices. It is pointed out that he was bitterly attacked by the Italians and the French press for his activities against the Italians at Trieste where he was stationed during the war. It is said that Chancellor Renner, chief of the Austrian mission, sent him back to Vienna to interest in harmony during the negotiations.

16 UNIONS JOIN STRIKE OF COMMON LABORERS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
St. Paul, Minn., May 21.—Members of 16 different labor unions here, estimated at 5,000 men, went on strike at 8 a. m. today in sympathy with common laborers who are on strike demanding 50 cents an hour, a raise of 10 cents an hour, with a nine hour day and recognition of their elected representatives. The building trades, including electricians, plumbers, holsters, cement finishers, bricklayers, tile setters, painters, sprinkler fitters, sheet metal workers, outside iron workers, and stone masons.

It is reported that after one of his dispatches had been censored Frischauer succeeded in regaining possession of it and in dispatching it after he had modified the effect of the censor's action.

Only Two Bids Received for Ship Construction

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, May 21.—Only two definite bids were received by the navy department today for the construction of the remaining two of the 10 super-dreadnaughts authorized by congress in 1916. The Newport News Ship Building and Dry Dock company offered to build one in 45 months for $21,900,000 and the Bethlehem Ship Building corporation, one in 40 months for $22,550,000.

British Aviator Lost at Sea

View of Sopwith airplane with which Harry Hawker, aided by Commander MacKenzie Grieve, set out to cross Atlantic and pictures of Hawker and Mrs. Hawker and their baby.

Harry G. Hawker, Australian flyer who started the world with his daring attempt to fly across the Atlantic in one "hop" from St. Johns, N. F., to England, had gained fame as an aviator before his trans-Atlantic adventure.

Hawker was in the motor trade in Australia when he became interested in flying.

In 1916 he set a world's altitude record of 25,500 feet and reports state he has since exceeded that height.

The diminutive size of Hawker's plane in which he and his navigator, Commander MacKenzie Grieve, attempted their flight made the feat all the more daring. Hawker depended upon two things to hurl him and his aid across the ocean—their heavy and a specially constructed 350-horsepower motor.

While the fuselage of the craft was boat shaped experts realized it could not last long in a choppy sea. A little collapsible boat and inflatable rubber costumes were the only other safety devices carried.

No one was more confident of Hawker's success than Mrs. Hawker who with their little baby was waiting for him in England.

STRIKERS CLAIM THEY OFFERED TO WASH LIGHT GLOBES

Who will volunteer to wash the globe? The members of the city council are anxious to get the work done and several of the members assert that the globes will be cleaned if volunteers have to be called for.

Alderman Badger stated today that several of the striking electrical workers claim that they offered to wash the globes, but their offer was rejected by E. H. Korst, manager of the Janesville Electric company.

"I have absolutely nothing to say regarding the strike," Mr. Korst said this morning. He was asked if it was true that he refused to allow the strikers to wash the globes.

Late reports circulated about the city are that the two men brought to the city to work have left and only three guards remain. The strikers still continue to picket, but no signs of any violence have been manifested.

Violence Tell of Threats
District Attorney Stanley Dunwiddie stated that he had been told that the guards were armed. The strikers claim that one of them threatened to pull a gun when they were talking to a man who had come from out of the city to go to work.

Mr. Dunwiddie asserts that he was told that several of the strikers walked up to one of the strikers and threatened to pull a gun when they were talking to a man who had come from out of the city to go to work.

The strikers asked the guard what business it was of his if he talked to the man and he informed them that he was there to protect the workers and he made a move to reach his back pocket and the men went on their way.

There is a heavy penalty for any concern which employs guards or special police carrying weapons," said District Attorney Dunwiddie. "I have no assurance that the guards are armed."

Dunwiddie Gives Opinion

Mr. Dunwiddie was asked regarding the searching of the men for concealed weapons and he stated that the chief of police had no authority to search a man without a warrant. "Technically the chief of police has no power to bring a man to the station and search him," he said.

SUFFRAGE PASSES IN HOUSE

BULLETIN

Washington, May 21.—The woman suffrage constitutional amendment resolution was passed today by the house after less than three hours debate.

The vote was 304 to 88, or 42 more than the necessary two-thirds majority. The resolution now goes to the senate where supporters plan to urge speedy action.

Final enactment of the measure within two weeks was predicted by some suffrage leaders.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, May 20.—Notwithstanding President Wilson's recommendation for repeal of war-time prohibition, insofar as it relates to wines and beers, the opinion seems to gain ground at the capital today that all repeal measures would be kept in committee until after July 1.

In the meantime, however, prohibition leaders planned to enact legislation for enforcement of the war-time prohibition act and the constitutional amendment.

There was no disposition on the part of the majority leaders, it was said, to hasten consideration of an appeal measure.

Dry Leaders Outspoken
The only apparent move was by prohibition leaders, who were outspoken in their opposition to the president's recommendation regardless of party lines. They let it be known that they would oppose any substitute liquor bill.

Consideration of the equal suffrage constitutional amendment, resolution began in the house shortly after noon today under an agreement to close general debate in two hours and with leaders expecting a vote immediately afterwards.

Refuse to Extend Time
In calling up the resolution Representative Mann, republican of Illinois, chairman of the woman suffrage committee, asked to extend the time for debate to 5 o'clock, but Representative Ferris, democrat, of Oklahoma, refused to agree.

Senator Sherman, republican, of Illinois, announced that Friday he would introduce a resolution in the senate proposing separation of the covenant of the league of nations from the peace treaty.

WINNIPEG STRIKE DEADLOCK REACHES ITS SECOND PHASE

Winnipeg, Man., May 21, 10:25 a. m.—The second phase of the deadlock between union labor and industrial employers in Winnipeg was begun this morning. The citizens' committee, which has been preparing for a strike which has been in progress since last week, has been attempting to conciliate the opposing factions, issued a proclamation urging business men to return to work and deliver and other public business activities today. A few trucks made their appearance. No serious disorder was reported.

Mr. G. Vetch, a member of the executive committee of the central strike committee, announced today that negotiations were in progress to develop the "conciliation" place into "direct conferences" looking toward a settlement of the strike.

Immediate restoration of normal city water pressure was ordered by the city council. Volunteer patrols to protect property and to guard against false fire alarms have been organized. It was officially announced.

Kerensky in Appeal for Help for Russia

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Paris, May 20.—A. P. Kerensky, former premier of Russia and several other members of the Russian constituent assembly and members of the Parisian union for the regeneration of Russia, today appealed to the democrats of the world for help in the present chaotic condition.

If possible the organization of a mission, composed of delegates from all the powers and including representatives to Russia and explain to the people and the different Russian governments the democratic aims they are pursuing.

The appeal says:
"It should be stated that the different governments repudiate the idea of an intervention likely to infringe on the sovereign rights of Russia."

Britain Fears Religious Trouble in Turkey

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Paris, May 21.—Great Britain's desire that a semblance of the Turkish empire be preserved to avoid religious complications through Mussulman dissatisfaction, is causing continued discussion in peace conference circles of plans by which this end might be effected.

It is understood that the plans provide for the sultan remaining in Constantinople as head of the Moslem faith, but with only nominal temporal authority.

WILL NOT SIGN TREATY, SAYS ENEMY; SHIFTS RESPONSIBILITY OF WAR

PEACE CONFERENCE MAKES PUBLIC TEXT OF REPARATION NOTE.

SAYS ORIGIN OF WAR NOT PROVED

Delegates Do Not Share View of Allies As To Who Instigated Fighting.

Paris, May 21.—The peace conference last night made public the text of the German note regarding reparations and the reply made by Premier Clemenceau as president of the conference. The German note reads:
"The draft of the peace treaty submitted to the German delegates, part VIII, concerning reparation, begins with article 231, which reads as follows:
"The allied and associated governments affirm and Germany accepts the responsibility of Germany and her allies for causing all the loss and damage to which the allied and associated governments and their nationals have been subjected as a consequence of the war imposed upon them by the aggression of Germany and her allies. Reparation obligation accepted."
"Now the obligation to make reparation has been accepted by Germany by virtue of the peace treaty of November 11, 1918, independently of the question of responsibility for the war. The German delegation cannot admit that there could arise out of a responsibility incurred by former German governments in regard to the origin of the world war, any right of the allied and associated powers to be indemnified by Germany for losses suffered during the war."
"The representatives of the allied and associated states have, moreover, declared several times that the German people should not be held responsible for the faults committed by their government. The German people did not will the war and would not have undertaken a war of aggression. They have always remained convinced that this war was for them a defensive war."
"Differ on Cause of War
"The German delegates also do not share the view of the allied and associated governments in regard to the origin of the war. They cannot consider the former German government as the party which was solely or chiefly to blame for the war. The treaty of peace transmitted by you contains no facts in support of this view; no proof on the subject is furnished therein. The German delegates therefore beg you to commission set them the report of a committee of the allied and associated powers for the purpose of establishing the responsibility of the authors of the war."
"Pray accept, Mr. President, the assurance of my high consideration.
"Signed)
BROCKDORFF-RANTZAU.

DEMAND FOR HOMES BECOMING STRONGER

The need for homes becomes more pressing as construction of the second tractor unit gets under way.
The Chamber of Commerce yesterday received five requests for help. During the past six days, no less than 25 such requests have been received and all have been necessarily turned down as there is not a vacant house in the city.

Newcomers failing to obtain houses invariably secure two or three rooms for light housekeeping. These such as were rented yesterday, Chamber of Commerce records show, one furnished room was also rented.

Waterway Propaganda Appropriation Proposed

Madison, May 21.—The joint legislative finance committee has recommended an appropriation of $12,800 to be used by a special committee to collect the next two years collecting and distributing information relative to the proposed deep waterway between the great Lakes and the Atlantic ocean.

"Similar amounts will be provided by Michigan, Minnesota and Illinois," declared Senator A. H. Wilkinson, chairman of the finance committee, "and when this special commission has completed its work we believe there will be such a demand for the bill that it will be passed."

It is expected the bill will pass both houses of the legislature without a dissenting vote.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT TO A. P. GIVES REFUSAL OF TERMS.

14 POINTS ONLY PEACE IS ANSWER

Delegates Claim Wilson's Program Lost in Document As Presented.

Paris, May 21.—Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German peace delegation, has asked an extension of time for Germany to present her reply regarding the peace terms.
The count stated that further notes were being prepared and that it would be impossible to complete them by 1 p. m. Thursday when the time limit is up.

Germany Declines to Sign Peace Terms

Germany declines to sign the peace terms laid before it because they "spell the 'economic destruction, political disaster, and moral degradation of the entire German nation, not only for the present, but also for still unborn generations.'"

"That these consequences must logically follow acceptance of the peace conditions the American press itself has recognized without question," stated Count Brockdorff-Rantzau. "For them Germany took the standpoint that acceptance of such conditions could not be demanded and that the entire was unjustified in imposing such demands."

Claims Right of Prudence
"The right to compliance with the general promises made it, but a firmly grounded, definite, clearly defined claim, according to the basic law of international law, of all the nations and especially on the United States. A specific recognition of the right of Germany and of the German peoples to a peace of right, justice and reconciliation, instead of the unadorned song of hate which was written at Versailles, is contained in the note of the American secretary of state Lansing, of November 5, 1918."

"In the peace treaty of 1919, the Swiss minister in Washington unconditionally that the established basis of President Wilson's 14 points should be authoritative for the peace conditions. Secretary Lansing announced further that the entire government after careful consideration also were prepared to recognize the conditions set up by President Wilson as the basis for the conclusion of peace."

Declaration of Rights Only Asset
"The declaration of rights emanating from these specific declarations of all the nations and it is not in a position to constitute Germany's sole asset in the general moral breakdown of all international policies which has found unsurpassable expression in the Versailles terms."

"Germany answers them with a clearly artistic right in international law. Toward the political bankruptcy of Versailles the German nation stands as a creditor with undeniable rights and it is not in a position to yield on this chief point. Germany concluded peace on the basis of President Wilson's 14 points which all America had made its own, and all America, in the name of the League of Nations, is bound to fulfill its claims."

"It is not the German people's business to indicate how its rights shall be realized by the 14 points, or especially by the note of the secretary of state. It is the task of those who constructed the 14 points and brought them to acceptance, thereby inducing Germany to lay down her weapons."

Stand on Wilson's Program
"We do not believe that President Wilson, Secretary Lansing and the American people can take other than this German standpoint if they do not wish to be untrue to the principles which they have proclaimed in the message of December 4, 1917, condemned categorically when he said: 'We would dishonor our own cause if we treated Germany any other than justly and it is not in our nature to insist upon justice toward all, no matter how the war ended. We demand nothing which we are not ready ourselves to admit.'"

"We do not insist upon justice toward all, no matter how the war ended. We demand nothing which we are not ready ourselves to admit." "We do not insist upon justice toward all, no matter how the war ended. We demand nothing more than that which President Wilson announced in his declaration. We demand nothing more than that Americans place the 14 points opposite the peace terms. We do not believe that any one in the United States will have the courage to claim that there can be found in the peace conditions one single trace left of President Wilson's program."

Wilson's 14 Points U. S. Duty
"And here begins America's definite duty to step in. America either must put its 14 points through or it must declare that it is unable to do so. But it does not want to do so, so that in no case may the world be led to believe that America desires to have the peace conditions count as President Wilson's 14 points."

"The world is not to which we cling, and we cannot imagine what argument from the American side would be effective against it."

In President Wilson's message to congress of December 4, 1917, no passage can be found in textual agreement with the quotation in the cabinet statement. The quotation is to be a consensus from the following passage in the message in question:

"We can do this concentrate on the prosecution of the task of winning the war with our greater zeal and enthusiasm because we know that for us this is a war of high principle, debated by no selfish ambition of conquest or spoliation. It is because it is for us a war of high, disinterested principle."

GALESVILLE SENATOR NOT BUSY WITH BILLS

Madison, May 21.—If this session of the Wisconsin legislature is lengthy it will not be the fault of Senator Eugene P. Clark, Galesville, representing the thirty-second district.
According to figures compiled by Joseph F. Kider, senate index clerk, Senator Clark has introduced more bills than any other senator, his record to date being 43. Senator Louis A. Foss, Milwaukee, is running Jennings a close race with 31 bills, while Senator A. J. Pullen, Fond du Lac, is third with 25. Senator George B. Sigmond and Roy P. Wilcox, River Falls and Eau Claire respectively, often mentioned as republican gubernatorial possibilities, are tied with 21 apiece.
That Senator Horman C. Schultz, Milwaukee, who held the record as last session's bill introducer, may still get that honor this year is indicated by the fact that many of the legislative bills still in the hands of the legislature and still to be introduced, Senator Schultz now has 30 proposed laws bearing his name.
Because of a senate rule limiting the time for the introduction of bills, many measures are introduced through committees. Of the committees, the judiciary is ahead of the others in the number of bills introduced. At the close of last week's business 526 bills had been introduced in the senate as against 589 on the same date of the last or 1917 session.

COUNTY TAX MARKET BILL HELD UNLAWFUL

Madison, May 21.—The supreme court has declared unconstitutional the law enacted at the last session of the legislature empowering county boards to purchase general tax certificates. The legislature will probably introduce a new bill, which will meet the constitutional objection of the supreme court.
Under such a law all tax payers are treated alike," said Justice W. C. Owen, "while the vice of this law consists in arbitrary discrimination, not based on differences existing between the tax payers, or the property taxed, or differences existing in order to collect the tax. On the contrary, it is quite apparent that the classification was made to depend upon this question: What tax certificates constitute perfectly safe security? That question decided, the county was given a monopoly thereof."
A dissenting opinion is filed by Justice Eschweiler.
The more fact that the county would occupy a much more advantageous position in the tax sale market, said Justice Eschweiler, was not a competitive purchase than as a competitive sale. It does not appear to me to be sufficient reason for charging the legislature with intending to obtain the greater advantage rather than the lesser when the effect of such choice is not declared to be that they have not done the one and cannot do the other."

BLIND STUDENTS GIVE ELOCUTION RECITAL

A delightful elocution recital was given at the School for the Blind last evening under the direction of Miss Evelyn Welsh. This is the first year expression has been taught in the institution.
Miss Alice Otto gave the first number, a reading entitled "The Flecked Samaritan." Her voice carried well and her interpretation of the characters was excellent.
Two ethical poems were well given by Miss Genevieve Flack. She gave Kipling's "If" and Foss' "The House by the Side of the Road."
"Her Letter" was read by Miss Mildred Dwyer.
A piano solo was played by Miss Helen Patterson, entitled, "Allegro Molto."
Perhaps the most difficult reading to handle was "The Lion and the Mouse," which was well given by Miss Alice Otto.
After delivery of Charles Klein's masterpiece was effective while not at all affected.
Two humorous readings which received the most applause were "The Usual Way" and "Between Two Loves." They were recited by Miss Florence Soderstrom.
Her selections were well chosen and showed great effort on her part.
"Butterfly Fantasy," a piano solo, was played by Miss Dorothy Hunter.
A large audience enjoyed the recital which was held in the school gymnasium.

Cheer after cheer burst forth when Robert Cunningham, a delegate to the national convention at St. Louis, told of a resolution passed by the convention demanding Congress to take some immediate steps to stamp out bolshevism and the I. W. O. organization in this country.
Plans for a state convention were also discussed but nothing definite regarding the matter was agreed upon last evening. Lieut. Matthews, representing the United States Employment service addressed the men and urged them to go to the United States Employment bureau if they were in need of work.

VOLUNTARY AID FOR SOLDIERS, NEW PLAN

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, May 21.—A plan to raise approximately $12,000,000 by voluntary subscriptions for the aid of soldiers from Wisconsin who fought in the world war was launched in the upper house of the Wisconsin legislature when the joint finance committee proposed a plan for that purpose. A bill has been prepared for the creation of a board consisting of the governor, the adjutant general and the chairman of the state council of defense, to be known as the service recognition board, to have charge and control of the statewide plan for raising this sum by popular subscription. A separate bill to appropriate $500,000 to be raised and disbursed for the comfort of wounded soldiers during their period of convalescence, was proposed.
The voluntary plan for raising this $12,000,000 entails a voluntary levy of at least $3 on every $1,000 assessed valuation.
Rock county has an assessed valuation of $108,840,239, and is therefore required to raise the sum of $317,520.87 by subscription for the $12,000,000 fund.
The report of the sub-committee of finance committee which has been investigating the problem has arrived at the conclusion that legal obstacles prevent the state from borrowing money or issuing bonds for this purpose.
"It is my wish that every person in the state will make a liberal contribution to this fund," said Senator A. H. Wilkinson, chairman of the joint finance committee today. "I hope that the people of Wisconsin will get back of this movement everywhere and will put it over in a short time."
It is the plan of the finance committee to have contributions sufficient to assure to every Wisconsin citizen, in army or navy, including nurses, a sum of $10 a month for every month of service with a minimum of $50.
The service recognition board created under the terms of the new bill is also directed "to deliver to each beneficiary, in addition to the payment of money, an engraved certificate, stating in proper language the state's appreciation of his or her service, authenticated by the seal of the state of Wisconsin."

Skeleton of Plane is Repaired; Once is Enough

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
St. John, N. F., May 21.—The skeleton of Frederick B. Raynham's Martinsyde plane, a thing of frail appearance stripped of its covering of linen and veneer, was set up in a repair shop today to be reassembled.
Capt. C. W. E. Morgan indicated that he would not fly with Raynham in the attempt to win fame for which the machine is being rebuilt. He said when he recovered from his injuries he would make an effort to obtain a new plane and start an independent flight for the British Isles.
An attempt is to be made by the several expeditioners, were preparing for flights to obtain more satisfactory weather reports than heretofore received. Meteorologists of the expedition met last night and considered defects due to transmission delays.

STATE PROBATE LAWS GREATLY SIMPLIFIED

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, May 21.—The probate law of the state has been greatly simplified by the enactment of two laws one at the session of the legislature two years ago and a measure which has just been approved by Gov. Phillips. It is the opinion of Senator H. A. Huber of Dane county, author of the bills.
The older law simplifies the probate procedure and simplifies the time required for the probate of estates by about one-third; the later law does away with the expensive and delaying double trials of contested cases on appeals by providing for direct appeals from the supreme court from the county court instead of an additional trial in circuit court before a case reaches the higher court.
The direct county court appeal bill eliminates the double trial before getting to the supreme court, not only enables direct appeal from the county to the supreme court, but provides for jury trials in county courts on the issue of fact where demanded. If a litigant in a contested jury matter prefers, he may have his case tried either in the county or the supreme court, but not in both as heretofore. Contested matters other than jury cases must be tried in the county court only with direct appeal to the supreme court. County courts in counties with a population of less than 15,000 are exempted from the provisions of the act.

Be Careful in Using Soap on Your Hair
Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.
The best thing to use is just plain mullein seed oil, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.
Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5:30, a food sale will be given, which promises to excel all previous ones. The work of the sewing classes will also be on view, but not for sale.

The exhibition will not be open Saturday night.

HEALTH TO BE SLOGAN OF CITY NEXT WEEK

Health will be the slogan for Janesville during the next week, not only in the schools where an extensive program of education will be carried out, but also in the homes, and in various public places where a campaign is to be carried out to enforce the simple rules of sanitation, and bring home to individuals, and to the general public the needs of the movement.

This was decided at a general meeting of the committees on Health Week appointed from the various organizations to cooperate in a general campaign along these lines. The meeting was held last evening at the Chamber of Commerce, and was called at the instance of Judge Charles Fifield, chairman of the committee. The reports of different departments of work showed that the field was well covered and a well organized movement would be put on.

Meetings, programs in the schools, posters, window decorations, and a list of simple rules which will be given to school children and hung in every home are some of the things outlined at the meeting held last evening. This list is in the form of a placard, and will be headed by a short set of rules on sanitation compiled by the sanitary committee. This committee consists of Dr. George Fifield, Dr. Frank B. Welsh, Dr. Snodgrass and Dr. Mac Cornack.

Then here will be on the placard a brief resume of the ordinance of the city dealing with the question of garbage. Mrs. Allen Lovejoy will have a few things to say as chairman of the garbage disposal. Mrs. H. E. Faust on clean up of alleys, Mrs. W. A. Munn on a fly campaign, and Mrs. F. A. Spoon on cooperation of children in the work.

In regard to the publicity work connected with the campaign, Mrs. Abbie Helms announced the following committees: posters, Miss Ruth Jeffries; window decorations of merchants, Mrs. Louis Lovejoy; motion pictures on health topics, Miss Mabel Greenman; cooperation of clergy in health notices on Sunday, Rev. J. A. Melrose; a women's meeting, Miss Gertrude Cobb; advertising, Miss Gertrude Cobb.

The Praise Continues

Everywhere We Hear Good Reports of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Janesville is no exception. Every section of the U. S. resounds with praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. Fifty thousand persons are giving testimony in their home newspapers. The sincerity of these witnesses, the fact that they live so near, is the best proof of the merit of Doan's. Here's a Janesville case.

P. C. Samuels, grocer, 359 McKee Blvd., says: "I know from personal experience that Doan's Kidney Pills act as all right. My kidneys didn't act as they should and I had backache and pains around my loins. I used two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and was relieved. Since then I haven't had any more backache and my kidneys have been doing their work right. I think just as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills now as I did a few years ago when I first recommended them."

Price, 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Samuels had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Thomas Murphy and Mr. Hunt. A representative of the state board of health, Miss Martha Riley, will be in the city Monday and will give an informal talk to club women and mothers, at a meeting to be held at the library at four o'clock. It is also planned to hold meetings for the young people at hours to be specified later. Miss Riley's talk will be free to all.

A meeting of the school teachers of the city, both public and parochial, was held yesterday, and at that time Prof. J. H. Faust outlined the various facts of the program of education to be put on in the schools. A quantity of helpful material is available and it will be used in reading lessons, language studies, drawing lessons, etc.

Health talks given by physicians, etc. are in prospect. Individual score cards are to be issued to the pupils where a record of marks will be made, and kept by them for reference.

A Romance of Rock-a-Bye

Look along the mile-stones of the years, and back there, in a sort of "apple-blossom-time-in-Normandy" haze, stands one gleaming day, the day of your first baby. It was a trying enough time, old scout, with the confident doctor, the cheerful nurse, the sober neighbor-lady, and one nervous husband pacing the kitchen floor. Then came the fateful minutes while you were left out in the lonesome. Suddenly, and with machine-gun incessancy, a new voice smote your ear. The nurse came out smiling, the doctor later appeared and gave you a nod of confidence, and neighbors passing by paused and smiled congratulations at the house as that persistent, lusty-lunged wail told that there was a new baby at the Livermore's.

Remember how glorious all the rest of that day seemed, with the fellows all calling you "Dad"? Well, you can live over again some of that bygone bliss if you will only light up a Senero, the cigar of pleasant memories.

THE GIRL WHO HAD NO GOD

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART
Author of "K," "The Man in Lower Ten," etc.

He watched her back to the house, then went down the steps into the road.

There had been a dinner at the country club that night. The chief had attended it, unknown to hostess and guests, to the extent of sitting in the grillroom during the evening and carefully watching the men who came and went. He had dined quite alone in the grill. From where he sat he could see the dinner-party guests on the veranda. There were noticeably few jewels to be seen. Over his chop and lager beer the chief smiled grimly.

After that he shook dice for a short time with a young Englishman named Talbot, an interesting fellow. From him the chief got the club view of the jewel robbery.

"It's been coming to us for a long time," said Talbot, shaking the dice. "Long ago I advised some of the women who had famous pearls to have copies made and keep the originals in their banks, but they disliked the idea of wearing imitations."

"I see."

"Then a woman isn't satisfied to have a string of pearls; she must have it announced in all the papers. Of course crooks all over the country read about them, and naturally their fingers itch."

"I understand," said the chief, "that the Bryant pearl has been recovered."

"Yes, and good work on the part of the force," was Talbot's comment. If the chief smiled under his heavy mustache, it was the faintest possible twinkle in Talbot's eyes, who was there to see?

Talbot took the chief down to the station in his gray machine. They had chatted very pleasantly. But just opposite the steps from Elinor's garden they blew out a fire. The car swerved, suddenly throwing the light from the lamps along the bank. Standing in the shadows, and thus unexpectedly revealed, was Borodoy.

Talbot brought the car to a stop and jumped out. The Russian had gone on down the hill.

"Awfully sorry," said Talbot. "Looks as if you'd have to walk down. Perhaps you will find another car to pick you up."

"I shall rather enjoy the walk," said the chief, eyes ahead in the darkness.

"Whose place is this?"

Talbot glanced up and around.

"I'm afraid I don't know anything about the village," he opened the toolbox.

The chief took two or three steps along the road and turned. "About here, wasn't it, that the Episcopal clergyman was shot?"

"I cannot tell you that either. It was somewhere along this road."

"Good night," sang the chief cheerily, and started down the hill.

Borodoy had come out of the Hilary Kingston place. He knew that. Right here, almost where he stopped, was where Ward had been found. Then, in spite of old Hilary's death, the band was still using his house! Things were closing up. Borodoy tramped on down the road. About one hundred yards behind the chief followed.

Talbot, humming at a recalcitrant tire, filled the air with the short, angry raps of his hammer on the rim.

The Russian had an almost uncanny sense of pursuit. More than once in his life it had saved him, and now he knew he was being followed. He made no attempt whatever to throw his pursuer off the track, but went directly to the station. There he got an evening paper at the closing news stand and glanced over it, standing under an awning.

For all his embarrassment he saw quite distinctly the figure of the chief as he crossed the track and took up his station behind a pillar of the trainshed. Borodoy was thinking hard. It had been that unlucky swerving of a machine on the hill that had betrayed him. He knew that now. And he had just come out of the Kingston place. It was bad, very bad.

Borodoy rode all the way into the city with the chief a dozen seats behind him. The chief did not follow him home. He knew where he lived, and he could lay his hand on him when he wanted him. He was going to wait him now pretty soon. The Russian knew that, too.

When he had entered his apartment and turned on the light, he found Huff standing by a window. The boy ducked back as the light went up.

For a moment the two eyed one another. Huff was unshaven, sunken-eyed, dirty. The contrast between this wild-eyed boy and the tall Russian was strong.

"Well?" said Huff defiantly.

"Sit down," Borodoy's tone was kind. He went to a closet and got out a bottle of vodka.

"When did you have anything to eat?"

"I am not hungry."

Nevertheless Borodoy forced on him a little bread and meat.

"I didn't know you were out until tonight," Huff said at last, pushing his plate away.

"Where have you been?"

"Drinking my head off in a dive on Fortieth street," said Huff savagely. "I'm all right now."

"What got into you, Walter? For you to turn on us like that—to expose everyone of us, as you have—"

"She was in love with him. I wish I'd killed him."

Very patiently, Borodoy told him what had happened. Over the matter of the Bryant pearl he passed as lightly as he could. But Huff realized the significance of Elinor's placing it in the almshouse. He went rather white.

"We would have got off with the country club matter well enough, but this murderous frenzy of yours has finished us all. We'll have to break up and get away. I want you to go out to Elinor's tonight."

"She will not see me."

"I think she will," said Borodoy. "I want her to get away the first thing in the morning. Let her empty the vault."

He hesitated. Elinor's fortune in jewels was becoming a menace. Whoever took them in charge was possibly putting a bullet around his neck.

"Bring the jewels to me, if you have a chance. If it seems better, perhaps you'd better bury them out there."

"Where?"

"You might," said the Russian thoughtfully, "bury them in old Hilary's grave."

CHAPTER XII.

It was only an hour or so before dawn when Huff got to the hall. There were no trains between midnight and morning. And Talbot's car, which he might have used, had been long delayed by his burst tire. He took a suburban trolley line for perhaps half the distance and walked the rest.

At four o'clock in the morning he pressed the arbor button, and old Henriette, grumbling at this second disturbance of her rest, roused Elinor again.

Time was precious. Huff, having rung the announcing bell, made his way up through the dew to the house. And so it was that Elinor, opening the house door, met him face to face. As she recoiled from him, he closed the door.

"I have brought you a message from Borodoy," he said swiftly. "I've been a fool and scoundrel and—it's about all up."

Elinor hardly realized what he was saying. The light of horror had hardly died out of her eyes. To her, Walter, once her lover, now typified all of suffering and nearness to death that lay in old Hilary's room upstairs.

"The first train leaves the city at six o'clock," he said, trying to keep his voice steady. "It is hardly likely they will be out so soon, but under some pretext or other they will search the house this morning."

"How can I leave the house now? Upstairs in father's room—"

"I know," he put in hastily. "I know all about it. Elinor, I am sorry, I am wildly sorry. It's no excuse to say I was crazy, but I was."

"If I go away," Elinor said, with white lips, "how will they manage about him? The nurse needs so many things, and I—I see that she has them."

A flame leaped into the boy's eyes.

"If you care for him like that—what are you going to do about it? Even if he cares for you, you cannot marry him. If he ever found out about you—"

"He will never marry me. And—he does know."

The fact that Ward knew the truth about Elinor and the hand brought back to him their common peril. He thrust aside, for the time at least, his passion and his despair, and calmly directed his energies toward preparing the house for the inevitable search.

So systematic had old Hilary been that there were few papers to destroy. Such of the ledgers as were incriminating he burned in the furnace. Elinor's box of jewels he carried upstairs and placed on the library table. Such settings as had remained from the country club raid, after the gems had been taken out, he melted together in old Hilary's crucible and placed the gold and platinum nugget in Elinor's box.

Dinner Stories

"Here's a fine cod!" said the fishmonger admiringly, as he held up a large and flabby fish for his customer's inspection.

"Hum!" replied the lady doubtfully.

"Shilling a pound, ma'am," the fishmonger said, in the tones of one who is making a sacrifice.

The lady examined the fish more closely.

"It's not very fresh," she murmured doubtfully.

"Oh, yes, ma'am," protested the seller. "It's a beautiful fish!"

"But it's quite flabby and soft."

"That's right," said the fishmonger, angrily, as he saw he had failed to make a sale; "go on insulting it! It's dead and can't answer back!"

He had been discharged from the infantry company, seen the folks at home, and the other day walked into the marine recruiting office and asked to be enlisted.

"Evidently you didn't get enough of it in France," remarked the sergeant as he filed out the forms.

"I ain't that," said the man. "I've discovered that the army is the one job in which they can't read you."

"Dearest," he said, "tell me, was it the poems I wrote that first attracted you?"

"No, dearest," she replied, "I think it was that wonderfully attractive perfume the barber puts on your hair. And what first drew you heart towards me?"

"That's my voice!"

"Rightly, darling, for I feel sure it was the cunning little sound you make when you eat celery."

You Can't Cure Rheumatism With Liniments and Lotions

Torturing Pains Promptly Return in All Their Intensity

You may as well throw your liniments to the winds, if you expect them to rid you of the pangs of rheumatism. In fact, the sooner you discard forever the use of all forms of local treatment, the sooner you will get on the right track which leads to rational means of relief.

For you can rub and rub from now until doomsday, and you will never make any progress toward ridding yourself of rheumatism, because such treatment does not approach the source of the disease.

Remember from the outset that the pangs of rheumatism come from a deep-seated cause, and that simply rubbing the painful parts of the body has no effect on the disease itself. But when you locate the cause of the disease, the real source of all these intense pains, you can then treat the disease intelligently.

And until you do treat your rheumatism intelligently, you will never be free from its disabling pangs.

So many people have found real, genuine and lasting relief from rheumatism by purifying the blood with S. S. S., that we are justified in recommending this splendid remedy to all who are afflicted. Perhaps your case is like thousands of others which are caused by millions of tiny disease germs in the blood. S. S. S. so thoroughly cleanses the blood, that it routs out completely and eliminates all disease germs that infect it.

In this way the source of the disease is reached, and its cause removed. Give your system a thorough cleansing with this reliable vegetable blood remedy, and you will be delighted to be free of the pangs of rheumatism. It has been used for more than fifty years and is sold at all drug stores. Begin its use today and you will have the same satisfactory experience as thousands of other sufferers.

Should you wish special advice about your own case, it can be had without cost by writing to Chief Medical Adviser, 101 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

Turkey was overwhelmingly defeated by Greece in a couple of one-sided battles at the Myers theater last night, and as a result, Young Demetral, who was the Greek artillery and infantry combined, is today a pretty chesty boy.

Young Hussane, who attempted to uphold the Turkish end of the fray, fought manfully against superior forces, but was finally forced to retire.

He hung out the white flag after standing the Grecian onslaughts for 15 minutes and 25 seconds. He then withdrew from his position and after 16 minutes spent recovering in a rest camp, he came back. Greece seemed stronger after the cessation of hostilities and at the end of another 12 minutes of rest, being forced the Turk to sign an armistice.

Now the Greek chief is ready to meet the world—not at war, but on the mat. Demetral flings out an open challenge to middleweights and will take on the best that can be found at 135 pounds. He bars none.

Jimmie Quickly Accepts.

Efforts are now being made to match the Greek with Capt. Walter Evans, Chicago champion middleweight wrestler of the American Expeditionary Forces, now discharged and back on the old south side. When Demetral was shown the offer's challenge to him yesterday afternoon he said:

"Sure, I take him on—for any amount, winner take gate receipts or anything—I don't care."

The Gazette sporting editor wrote to Evans today notifying him that Demetral had at once accepted his challenge and asking him to come to town for a match with the Greek in two or three days. If this match can be pulled off, it will be the biggest wrestling event ever staged in Jansville and should attract sporting fans from every corner of this neck of the woods.

It would be a real bout.

If Demetral can throw Evans, then local fans are willing to concede that he is some wrestler. Jimmie in his four hours here this year has shown just how he knows the game. So far he has had everything his own way. The Masked Marvel gave him his toughest battle but at that, Demetral had a pretty easy time of it. He was a poor little Turk (he says he tips the scales at 150) was easy meat for the Greek.

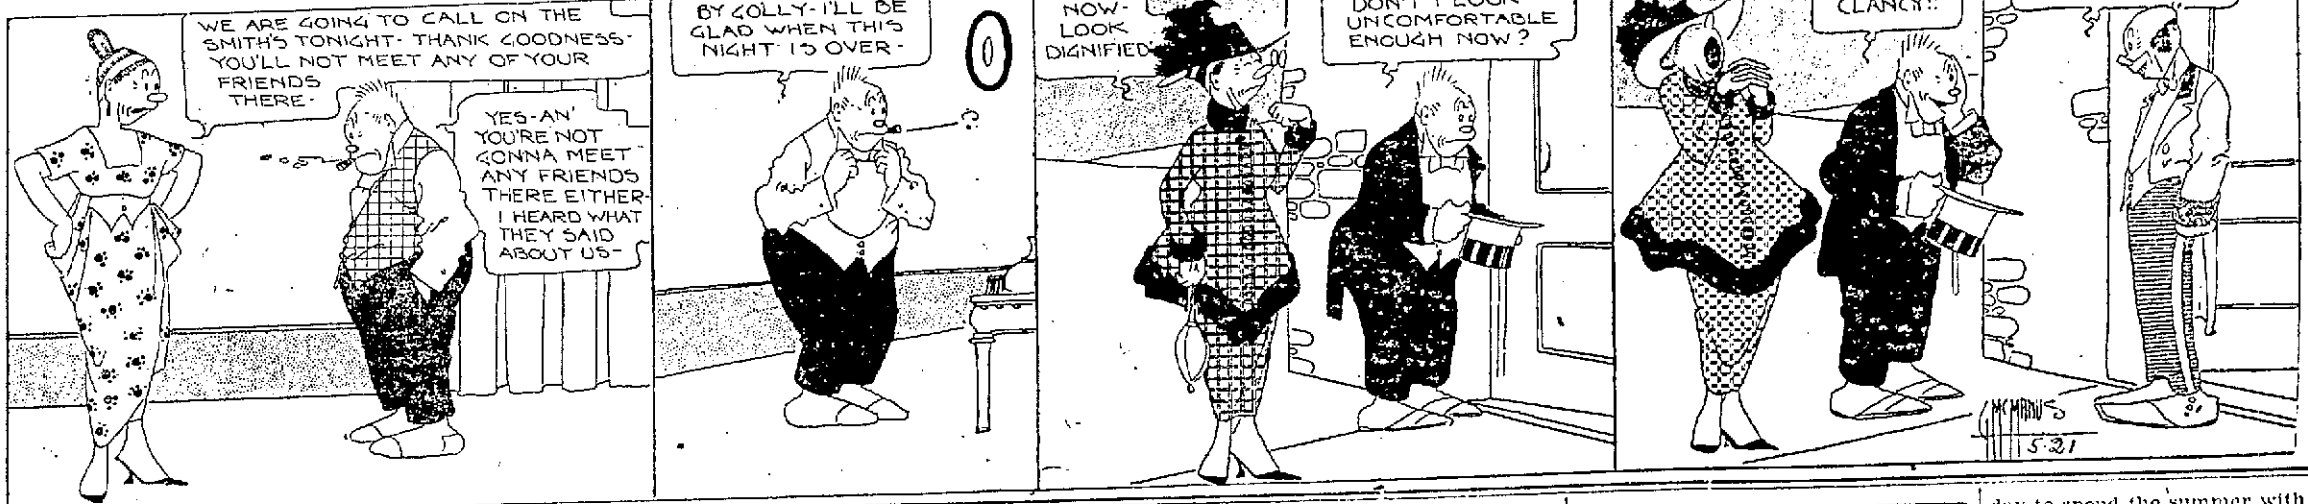

Demetral had it on him every way, size, strength, weight and endurance. The Turk plainly saw at the outset that he was beaten but nevertheless he fought and made a match out of it. He accepted Demetral's challenge without having ever seen him. In the future he will probably be more careful and have a look at his challenger before he lays down 100 plunks, cold cash on the outcome. But then, everybody learns by experience.

Demetral got the first fall in 19:25 with a body scissor and wrist lock, his favorite hold. Previous to that time he had the Turk in some dangerous positions at several times, but the very little, head-shaver speaker came out by quickness. Hussane was on the defensive three-fourths of the route.

He tried to take the initiative shortly after the grappling began but found Demetral too big to handle.

The second fall went to the Greek in 12 minutes flat. He used a crotch hold and arm bar to put the Turk to the mat this time, after he had him

The St. Patrick's school nine did not lose its title as was feared when it was defeated by the Pine Street team in a game composed of boys from the Jansville Delivery system. The final count was 23 to 2 with the Catholics on the longer end of the score.

The first few innings were hotly contested, but the St. Patrick's pounders later broke loose and clouted the pine all over the lot. Dawson and Leary, with their home runs, were the chief offenders.

St. Patrick's will endeavor to make it five straight victories this evening when they meet the Monterey Wolves in a twilight game.

Schauer, Where Are You? Manager Murphy wants to get into communication with Schauer, former outfielder for the James.

standing on his head for a minute. Two Good Prelims.

Young Sheard, local pride, stopped Josie Prox in five minutes, and "Jockey" flyweight, surprised fans by putting "Mutt" Zahn, bantam, to the mat in 5:15, in a couple of one-fall preliminaries. The boxing exhibition was necessarily called off because Jimmie was warned that if he staged another—even a two-round affair—he might be given a trip "up the river" and a pretty good sized assessment.

Prox substituted for Joe Anderson who failed to show for his bout with Sheard. He put up a good exhibition considering the fact that it was practically his first attempt at the game—he is a boxer by trade. Sheard showed his usual clean style and disposed of Josie with a body scissor and arm lock.

Young Zahn used a hammerlock to defeat his heavier opponent. The two boys, both heavy hitters for the Junior All-Stars, offered a good show and pleased fans with their rough and tumble work.

Lewis-Cadlock Bent Probable. Chicago, May 21.—Ed Lewis, winner over Wilfred Ziegler, Monday night's match at the Coliseum, may be forced to wrestle Earl Cadlock before he can claim the championship of the heavyweight division. Word was received from Gene Melady, manager of Earl, that the latter had sailed from Brazil, France, on May 16 and would be back in civilian clothes before long. It is Gene's plan to start Earl in a few minor matches and then go after Lewis.

Babe's Homer Scores Three. St. Louis, May 21.—Ruth's terrific drive over the right field fence with the bases filled checked St. Louis yesterday, Boston winning 6 to 4. The champions scored all their runs in the second inning.

A two-base muff by Tobin, a sacrifice, two singles, a force out and a walk scored two runs and filled the bases for Ruth, who hit the first ball pitched, driving it out of the park.

Illini Star, New Kew Coach. Lawrence, Kan., May 21.—George ("Patsy") Clark, who is homeward bound with the 8th division, will be head football coach at the University of Kansas, according to an announcement made today by W. O. LOCAL TRACK FANS INTERESTED IN BIG MEET AT MADISON

Although the local high school is not entering a team, some interest is being shown locally in the 25th annual interscholastic track and field meet to be held at Camp Randall, Madison, Saturday.

The purpose of the meet is to encourage athletics and also to give high school students a chance to become acquainted with the university. It will be conducted under the rules of the W. I. A. A. and will be handled by university athletes. The gate receipts are prorated among the schools entered.

A loving cup is awarded to the school winning the meet and individual silver medals to winners of the first three places. The winning relay team is also awarded a cup.

Track athletics have never amounted to much in Jansville, but it is hoped that next year the local high school will send at least two or three men to compete in the state meet at Madison.

As one of the innovations of this year's meet, a tennis tournament will be staged by the gate receipts. The complete program for the day, Saturday, follows:

10:00 a. m. Sightseeing University—by auto.

11:00 a. m. Spring regatta—boat race.

Pole Wants Two Hours. Chicago, May 21.—The Polish, Polish middleweight champion, matched to meet Johnny Meyers at the Haymarket Theater Friday night, has asked for more time than the usual hour and thirty minutes allowed the wrestlers at the end of the show. He wants the bout started at 1 o'clock, giving him at least two hours for the falls.

TRACK MEET STARTS TUESDAY EVENING

In the 280 yard run in the Employed boys' class last night at the Y. M. C. A., Pratt defeated Daugherty, McCusky beat Mills, Pallette defeated Dickinson, Bull defeated K. Smith and Kelly beat Felt.

Friday, Pratt will meet McCusky, Pallette will meet Bull, and Kelly will run against Doss, to determine the contestants for the 330-yard event in the finals to be run next week.

In a semi-final heat Bull defeated Pallette in a hair line finish after he had gained a fair lead. Pallette failed to take advantage of the banked track and lost time on the turns, but was able to push Bull at the finish, the latter winning by a small margin.

Bull, however, seems to be the probable winner of the event in the finals as he is light and has the endurance and speed. He wastes no time in waiting to see what the other fellow is doing, but leads all the way.

Friday night will be a clean-up night in all events. The entries for each class in all events will be in the village the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Purdy.

FOLKS are a heap like tobacco. Thar's hot-headed, bitey folks. Thar's flat, uninterestin' folks. An' then thar's folks like Velvet—mild, but hearty an' fren'ly, too.

Velvet Joe

THE FRIENDLY TOBACCO

"Friendly" is a very good word to describe the positively pleasing quality that sets VELVET tobacco apart.

There is that indescribable something about VELVET that is associated in men's minds with the thought of a friend.

It is a satisfying smoke—never harsh; without a bite. Like a friend it "agrees" with you no matter how much you use it.

Long, patient ageing—in wooden hogsheads—does it. Friendship must ripen slowly. Good tobacco the same way. An army of men have learned this through VELVET.

Today is a good time to get a lot of comfort out of a pipeful of friendly VELVET.
